Early Meeting Of Space Unit Sought by U. S.

Asks That 24-Nation
Committee Convene
Before End of Month

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States is reported pressing for an early meeting of the new U.N. space committee in an apparent move to test Soviet intentions on international cooperation in outer space.

The United States has consulted the Soviets and other U.N. delegations about the chance of convening the 24-nation space committee before the end of January.

The Soviets reportedly balked at giving a definite answer until they get instructions from Moscow.

Oaks Space Committee

The General Assembly unanimously approved formation of the permanent space committee last month after the United States and the Soviet Union broke a long-standing deadlock over how many Communists and non-Communists should serve on the body.

Agreement was reached after the United States consented to have seven Communist and five neutral nations appointed to the 24-nation committee along with 12 Western Nations. This came nearer the Soviet demand for parity.

When the original 18-nation interim space committee was formed in 1958 the United States insisted that only three Communists and two neutral nations be named. The Soviets boycotted all the committee meetings.

The United States is understood to be anxious to get the new committee to work while the spirit of Soviet-American cooperation exists.

Before Red Announcement

The U.S. move to get the new committee operating was made before the Soviets announced their intention to hold rocket tests over the central Pacific within a few weeks.

The Soviet tests, however, are expected to lend new urgency to American demands for an early meeting.

The Soviet government distributed notes to foreign embassies in Moscow Friday confirming the Kremlin's plan to test a powerful new rocket. Planes and ships were warned to stay out of a broad area about 1,100 miles southwest of the Hawaiian Islands during the firings scheduled to begin between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15.

Moscow radio said the projected tests are part of a program preparing for "man's flight into interplanetary space."

Arrows Removed In Signal Light At State and Lincoln

A slight change has been made in the traffic signal light at E. State St. and Lincoln Ave.

Mayor Dean Cramer said the green arrows directing traffic to the right and straight ahead has been changed to solid green.

He explained the change was made because the two arrows caused confusion for drivers wishing to make left turns while the right-straight arrows were lit.

Under the present system, the mayor said, a driver may turn left if traffic permits and while the light is green as long as he uses caution. Everything else about the light will remain the same.

In another traffic light change, the mayor said that traffic southbound on S. Ellsworth Ave. now may turn right into Railroad St. on the red light after stopping.

He warned, however, that motorists should use extreme caution and should definitely stop before proceeding through the red light into the right turn.

He stated that the northbound traffic on Ellsworth and the east-bound traffic on Railroad must still await the green light before proceeding.

All traffic at the intersection should be especially cautious, the mayor said, because of the exit from the Farmers Bank drive-in building at the east side of the intersection.

Traffic Injuries Here In '59 Showed Increase

For every two persons injured in Salem traffic in 1958, five were injured in 1959.

This appalling fact was revealed today in the annual report of Police Chief Martin Lutsch.

Equally disturbing is the fact that the number of injuries is pure luck. This is evidenced by the relatively balanced number of accidents in the two years.

According to the report, accidents in 1958 numbered 314 while in 1959 there were 328.

As far as fatalities go, 1959 might deserve some credit considering both years had one fatality but at the same time considering 1959 had slightly more accidents.

A further breakdown of the report shows that in 1959 there were 247 two-car accidents, 14 three-car accidents, 3 four-car accidents, 35 fixed object accidents, 14 hit skips, 7 auto pedestrian accidents, 1 auto-passenger accident and 4 auto-bicycle accidents.

Arrests Increase

In the number of arrests made in 1959, the figure compared to 1958 show a monumental difference. Chief Lutsch's report shows there were 503 arrests made in 1959 compared to 316 in 1958.

The only classification of arrest which shows a decrease in 1959, as compared to the previous year, is in intoxications. There were 84 arrests made in this category in 1958 compared to 72 this year.

Traffic Arrests Up

In traffic arrests, the department arrested 283 persons during 1959 a whopping 200 more than in 1958. However, the chief explained that the speed meter was used

Louisiana Ballots In Dems' Race

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Louisiana votes today in a Democratic runoff for governor between Mayor deLeesep Morrison and former Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Ways to keep segregation alive, union labor friction, and the rivalry of new-style politics in the aftermath of the downfall of Gov. Earl K. Long in the Dec. 5 first primary, overshadowed the older religious and sectional issues.

Morrison, 47, four times mayor of New Orleans and a Catholic, and Davis, 53, governor 15 years ago and a Baptist, were similar in their voicing of responsible, dignified leadership.

Louisiana hasn't elected a Catholic governor since Samuel Douglas McEnery in 184 and hasn't chosen a New Orleans candidate for governor since 1920.

The candidates raced far ahead in a record field of 11 during the first primary when Morrison led by 65,000. He gained 278,956 out of the record 842,609 votes cast.

Davis has the strong support of William Rainach, the segregation leader who came in third in the first primary with 143,000 votes.

Long, who lost his bid for the lieutenant governor's office, finishing third in a six-man race, has cast an absentee ballot for Davis in today's race.

Morrison's support is strong in vote-heavy southern Louisiana, the French-Cajun country where Morrison could campaign in French. He appealed to central and northern Louisiana to let him show he can build the state industrially with the same energy he applied in New Orleans.

Davis, a singer of cowboy and gospel songs, cattleman, tree farmer and business man from Shreveport, served as governor from 1944 to 1948. This time he has built powerful support from many factions with his promise to restore political peace and harmony after the bedlam of the Long regime.

While the Democratic nominee is certain to win in the April 19 general election, he will be opposed by Republican and states rights candidates.

West Berlin Maps Anti-Nazi Drive In Schools

10,000 Paraders
Stage Demonstration
Against Race Hatred

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin school officials threatened today to crack down on teachers who refuse to tell their pupils the truth about Hitler and the Nazi era.

School Supt. Carl Heinz Evers said his move was inspired by the recent wave of anti-Jewish acts, most of them carried out by youths who have had their schooling since World War II.

The new move came in the wake of a demonstration by 10,000 Germans against hate-mongers and Nazism.

Plans Disciplinary Action

Evers told newsmen he intends to bring disciplinary action against any teacher who fails to give a correct picture of what the Nazis did. He also promised to prevent former Nazis from getting teaching jobs.

Half the teachers in West Berlin are over 45 and Evers said most of them were members of the Nazi party. Under a West German law, party members who had no serious charge against them are entitled to get back jobs they lost right after World War II.

"This," Evers said, "has brought us teachers we could have done without."

In Friday night's demonstration, the crowd—mainly young people—carried banners reading "Nazis Get Out" and "Against Race Hatred." They marched quietly through the center of West Berlin.

First Staged Since 1933

The anti-Nazi demonstration was the first staged in Germany since 1933, when Adolf Hitler rose to power.

The paraders, ignoring freezing weather, poured into Steinplatz Square, site of twin monuments to the victims of Nazism and Stalinism.

Sen. Joachim Lipschitz, head of West Berlin's police, praised them for defending the honor of German youth.

"Up until now," he said, "the world has had confidence in this youth and it is up to us not to cause this confidence to wobble."

The young people also were commended in a telegram sent by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Despite a crackdown on racists, there was no letup in the flare-ups of anti-Semitic incidents that spread through West Germany and other parts of the world following the desecration of a synagogue in Cologne Christmas Eve.

More swastika daubing cropped up in other countries Friday.

In Brooklyn, N.Y., a swastika and the words "Heil Hitler" were scrawled on the front door of the Congregation Beth Israel.

Swastikas were chalked on two doors of St. Luke's Lutheran church in New Rochelle, N.Y. In Mexico City, the Nazi symbol was smeared on restaurants, stores and a building adjoining the presidential palace.

Bender Quits As Head of Teamster Anti-Racket Unit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former U.S. Sen. George H. Bender of Cleveland has resigned as chairman of the Teamsters' Union's anti-racketeering commission, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported today.

In a dispatch from its Washington bureau, the newspaper said Bender has declined to confirm or deny that he has left or is about to leave his highly-paid post with the 1,500,000-member union.

James H. Hoffa, union president was said to be out of town, but it was reported Bender's resignation was on Hoffa's desk awaiting his return.

The former Republican senator has been under attack from many quarters ever since he was named in August 1958 to direct an investigation of charges the giant union has been dominated by corruptive influences.

Bender, however, has repeatedly maintained he never would have taken the job if he was hired merely to do a "whitewash job."

The former senator at first received a salary of $250 a day, when working. It was understood that about six months ago he suggested his pay be cut to $125 a day.

More than a year ago, Dec. 30, 1958, Bender announced the pay he had received up to that time from the Teamsters, about $15,000, was being turned over to various charities.

Man Dies As Train Demolishes Auto

SUPPLIES BY AIR TO ARCTIC FLOE—Supplies were parachuted to "Station Charley," the Arctic Ocean floe, last summer when melting ice made it impossible for planes to land. The U. S. Air Force Friday began airlifting a group of scientists and servicemen from the research camp because the floe crumbled two days earlier to one-fourth its original size of four miles long and two miles wide. This picture was made by William Cromie, a geologist who set up the Lamont Geological Observatory portion of "Station Charley."

Payrolls Off In '59; Trend Upward Noted

Industrial payrolls in Salem declined approximately $3,431,591 during 1959 as compared to 1958 when more people were at work, unofficial figures of the Chamber of Commerce disclose.

Employment averaged 4,165 for the 12 months just ended compared to the previous year's average of 4,760.

Much of this was the result of the American-Standard Corporation's transfer to Warren of its Youngstown Kitchens Division.

The collective industry pay for December was $1,419,559 or $209,116 less than December a year ago, the Chamber said today in a partial report. However, this was an increase over November which had $1,248,096.

The best month for factory payrolls last year was June when the total amounted to $1,688,936. There was a decline until October when the collective payrolls jumped to $1,592,806, showing an upward trend again and coinciding with local manufacturers' predictions of increased production in Salem factories in 1960.

Dr. Ridge said he believed Mrs. Finch suffered a skull fracture in the family garage—where blood was found on her car and the garage floor.

He said she apparently was shot after she fled from the garage—possibly she ran down a flight of steps to a neighbor's lawn.

'Station Charlie' Rescue Continues

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—It was nine rescued and 18 to go today as the Air Force continued an orderly, long-planned evacuation of Station Charlie, a floating scientific station in the Arctic Ocean.

Two men were taken off the huge ice floe on which the station is located Thursday. Seven more men were airlifted from the floe Friday night by ski-equipped C-130 transport planes from Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn.

The evacuation, planned many months ago in case of just such an eventuality, was touched off when a large piece of the floe broke off. The floe, drifting 400 miles northwest of Barrow, Alaska, originally was four miles wide and seven miles long.

With the seven men flown out Friday night came many pounds of equipment used by the station's scientists in their arctic observations, involving several fields.

At no time since the evacuation started has there been any emergency or any danger, the Air Force emphasized.

Missing Warren Boy, 3½, Found

Lost In Scrub Brush
Area for 17 Hours

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Randy Moy, 3½-year-old boy who was the object of a massive search since he disappeared from his backyard Friday afternoon, was found alive today near a beaver dam northeast of his home. He had been missing more than 17 hours.

He was rushed to a hospital in Greenville, Pa., where first reports said his condition was fair. He underwent emergency treatment, apparently from the effects of being exposed to the sub-freezing temperature.

Some 400 persons had joined in combing a wooded area near the Ohio-Pennsylvania line for the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moy of Vernon Twp.

Temperatures dipped below the freezing mark during the night, but the boy was well-dressed to withstand the cold, the Trumbull County Sheriff's Office said.

His mother said he was shy and would not voluntarily go away with strangers.

A small stream was dragged. Bloodhounds from East Liverpool were used by searchers combing a wooded area, described as a "small jungle of five-foot high bushes."

Aiding sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen were volunteers from 16 nearby fire departments, civilian defense workers and airmen from the Air Force jet base near Youngstown.

Searchers called for a helicopter from Ravenna to aid them as daylight broke.

Columbiana County Deputy Hermon Wellman, Bill Grim and other county men assisted in the search.

Navy Craft Sinks To Record Depth

GUAM (AP)—Scientists said today the U.S. Navy's bathyscaphe Trieste—which dived to a record depth of 24,000 feet Friday—soon will try for 35,000, more than 5½ miles under the sea.

The cigar-shaped craft with its underslung, gondola-like ball, sank to the record depth in the Marianas Trench 50 miles southeast of this western Pacific island.

It eclipsed the 18,600 feet reached by the Trieste in the same area Nov. 16, by Dr. Andre as B. Rechnitzer, head of the underwater research team, and Dr. Jacques Piccard.

Dr. Piccard and Navy Lt. Donald Walsh, San Diego, Calif., were in the thick-walled gondola in Friday's six-hour descent. The scientists gathered data on water temperatures, marine life, salinity, light and sound. The Navy considers the findings important to antisubmarine warfare.

Cantonian's Death County's 3rd Since Jan. 1

Occurs Near Bayard;
Salem Man Injured
In One-Car Mishap

Columbiana County recorded its third traffic fatality of 1960 Friday morning when a 33-year-old Canton man was killed in a train-car collision on the Bayard-East Rochester Rd. near Minerva.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the dead man is Franklin E. Brink, a part-time truck driver, of Ammon Rd., RD 4, Canton. He was an employee of the coal firm of Warwick & Spelman, Inc., of Canton.

They said he was driver of a car which was struck by a 131-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight train collision on the Bayard-East Rochester Rd. near Minerva.

According to state patrolmen, Brink's car was struck on the passenger side with such force that the vehicle was totally demolished. Brink, who was alone in the 1951 model car, had to be cut from the wreckage.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital, Canton. His injuries included a crushed chest and fractured skull.

Railroad authorities said the grade crossing has standard crossing signs and that the engineer sounded the horn before the crash.

The victim is survived by his wife, Alice; four children, Lucille, Leona, Clarence, and Richard of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Sheets and Mrs. Margaret Franklin of Canton and his mother, Mrs. Clarence Brink of Canton.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Monday in the Earl B. Jack & Son Funeral Home in Canton with burial in Westlawn Cemetery.

Mother, Three Children Die In Ohio Crash

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Two automobiles collided at a county road intersection southeast of here Friday night killing a mother and three of her four children.

The victims, all in one car, were identified as Mrs. Betty Allen, 27, and her children, Cheryl, 9; Susan, 3, and Don, 1, all of nearby Merrill.

Four others in the car with the victims were injured and taken to Wood County Memorial Hospital, sheriff's deputies said.

Injured were Mrs. Ida May Norris, 26, Portage, driver of the car, (no condition available); Dawn Miller, 1, and Teresa Miller, 3, listed in fair condition, and Vickie Allen, 4, the fourth Allen child (no condition available).

Deputies were probing the wreckage to determine how the crash occurred. Driver of the second car, George Couch, 28, of Rt. 1, Bloomdale, was not injured, officials said. He apparently was alone in his car.

Stirling Chaser Needs Another Week

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Otto Standke, the Stirling chaser from Great Bend, Kan., said today it will take another week's work to "clean up" eight downtown buildings which have been plagued by the birds.

The Mahoning County Courthouse, Hotel Pick-Ohio and Mahoning National Bank already are battles won this week, Standke said.

The courthouse, once black with the birds, now has only a few flying about. Standke said these "are just a few lost birds looking for their pals—they don't stay all night as they used to."

Local Highway Planning

The State Highway Department has practically handed a drawing board to the city of Salem to chart the future course of U.S. Route 62 when the time comes for its relocation in this area.

The city, a local delegation has been told by divisional state highway engineers, can petition to have the road built close by or farther to the north.

Construction of the highway is not likely to occur for several years, at the earliest, but when the time comes it will cross north of the city either south or north of the existing Sebring-Pine Lake Road, according to William McKenna, the state highway department division engineer.

The exact location will depend entirely on the wishes of the citizens of Salem, the civic leaders, city officials and businessmen who most certainly ought to be interested in obtaining a road that will prove beneficial to Salem's future development.

Although the proposed two-lane thoroughfare will be limited access, its design will be for interchanges with existing roads which could form a pattern for a more systematic growth north of here.

The oft-talked bypass to the south of Salem is entirely another project but equally needed.

Chamber of Commerce and Area Development Corporation officers and city officials aren't expected to waste too much time in making a study of the needs of the Route 62 bypass as it affects Salem, especially when the highway department is so cooperative.

If this cooperation can be exchanged later for better priority on local jobs the time will not be too far distant when the projects will become a reality. Unfortunately, the time lag between studies, programming, fund allocations, right-of-way acquisition and contract letting is years—not months.

An active highway committee can do much to overcome this through constant attention to present and future problems.

Dear Santa Congress: Save Us!

The public prints and airways are packed with lists of things Congress will be asked to do in behalf of the American people until the time comes to knock it off for the political conventions, in midsummer.

Chances are if you are one of the millions who expect Congress to save you with ministrations of public money your name is on the list.

But millions who do not expect Congress to save them with other people's money are watching something else this year. They think there is a new idea in the making in Washington. They are interested in every jot and tittle of evidence to that effect.

When these people write a Santa Congress letter, they do not ask for more. They ask for less. This is a revolutionary point of view. But in a country that was built on revolutionary points of view, there always should be room for a new idea.

The idea in this instance is that Congress should get back to a concept of government that hasn't been talked about often enough in recent years—the concept that representatives and senators should think and vote in behalf of all their constituents.

In recent years far too many members of Congress have been voting in behalf only of those constituents who were doing the best job of bellyaching and making the loudest threat of reprisals at the polls if their demands were refused.

This has led to government by minority pressure blocs. This always is a threat and certainly nothing new. But it is a menace to the principle of a republic.

IN A REPUBLIC, those who are elected to legislate bear delegated responsibility. It never was intended that they would make up their minds according to spot surveys, telegrams, telephone messages, post cards, or ax-grinding. Perhaps the founding fathers were too hopeful, but they hoped these people would think of themselves as trustees, not as public address systems for screaming minorities back home.

Rail Tampering

The Pennsylvania Railroad has given notice that it is patrolling its right of way through Salem because of obvious tampering with the rails.

Recently a splice bar was placed on the tracks, a prank which could have wrecked a train but fortunately didn't. Last summer an alert engineer discovered a thrown switch, just minutes before another train was due.

Such acts are not pranks nor vandalism but deliberate attempts to endanger the lives of crews and passengers, and railroad detectives have orders to arrest anyone found trespassing on railroad property. Parents should strongly warn their children that the tracks are not a playground and anyone with information which could solve the isolated cases here should contact the company to avoid any recurrence which could be tragic.

Once Over

Hubert Humphrey in his Horatio Alger pitch for the White House puts candidates with money in a tough spot. Messrs. Kennedy, Symington and others may have to declare an unkind fate put them into the upper brackets and announce they are against pocket money, checking accounts and white meat.

Hubert is hell-bent for presidency in composite role of Whittier's "Barefoot Boy," Riley's "The Raggedy Man" and Abraham Lincoln in the economy-sized package.

Humphrey will battle in the mood of "Ned the Newsboy" and all former shoeshine boys but his platform indicates he is under the impression he is running in the McKinley-Bryan era and determined to fight Mark Hanna, Jim Fisk, Commodore Vanderbilt, the late Hank Ford's $5 a day and horse cars without vestibules for drivers.

AT A TIME when more Americans are employed than ever in history at the highest wages and in the shortest work week, the senator makes his pitch to fight UNEMPLOYMENT and DEPRESSION, even if he has to campaign while caught in a parade of luxury automobiles. He seems to think what the country needs most is somebody in the White House who will guarantee the full dinner pail.

The senator declares prosperity of Americans is lopsided, and he won't admit this is due to the fact they are packing the heavy luggage on one side of the station wagon.

That's one thing, then, Congress could do for voters who do not want any special hand-outs. It could say No.

The other thing it could do—if it wants to give a push to a revolutionary point of view—is to bear down hard on the thought that the United States should pay for what it already has bought.

This is an oversimplified way to say what money specialists are talking about with fierce intensity, because they know it's the nation's biggest problem and they despair of getting politicians to do something about it in time.

NON-AMERICANS who handle dollars are beginning to bite them, figuratively, to make sure they're real. The United States has spread its dollar commitments around so lavishly that some of the world's money handlers are beginning to wonder about the dollar's long-term value.

If they became uneasy enough to start a run on the assets of the country that has tried to be the world's banker and philanthropist rolled in one, it would be an international monetary disaster. What that could do to Americans shouldn't happen to Frenchmen, who finally have revalued their currency by counting it 100 to 1, thus making the 100-to-1 franc come out at the two-bit level it occupied when many of us were school children.

If Congress can't lay off spending to save the buck, maybe it could lay off to save the buckeroos, though—and here is that same revolutionary thought again.

The buckeroos now are pretty well convinced, if they have thought about it as long as a quarter of an hour, that the built-in weakness of their government is its tendency to piddle itself away by trying to please everybody and thereby bankrupting everybody.

Ever observer of the United States has pointed to this danger. In the United States, everybody is supposed to be happy. The recent years have been to spread the fun by handing out other people's money.

THE GIVEAWAY idea has been worn threadbare. The new idea in Washington is to admit it. The trouble is that the idea may die a-borning, despite the tender loving care it has been given by Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, Budget Director Stans and President Eisenhower, himself, who started to be a handout president and only recently has been converted to a holdback president.

Voters need to get behind it.

There could be a bright future in this for a lot of people. It could be the prime talking point of the national election this year, because the Democratic party already is under the thumb of the spenders. Voters should have an alternative.

Or, to sum up in a sentence what some Americans would like to write to Santa Congress in 1960:

"Save us from giveaway artists who will win our gratitude if it takes our last dollar."

By H. I. Phillips

"I know what it means to be a victim of depressions," he says, as if in 1960 he sees voters selling apples from de luxe four-door auto jobs. If the country has a depression in 1960 Hubert will be the handicapper's choice unless it develops William Jennings Bryan is not dead.

GOTHAM HAS HAD its almost annual Quill-Knickerbocker Productions Co. presentation of the best rehearsed program, "Dough or Consequences." It opens with dramatic fury and fiery threats, has a big second act mutual "I will never surrender" crisis and concludes with the City Hall vested choir rendition of Victor Herbert's "Only Make Believe."

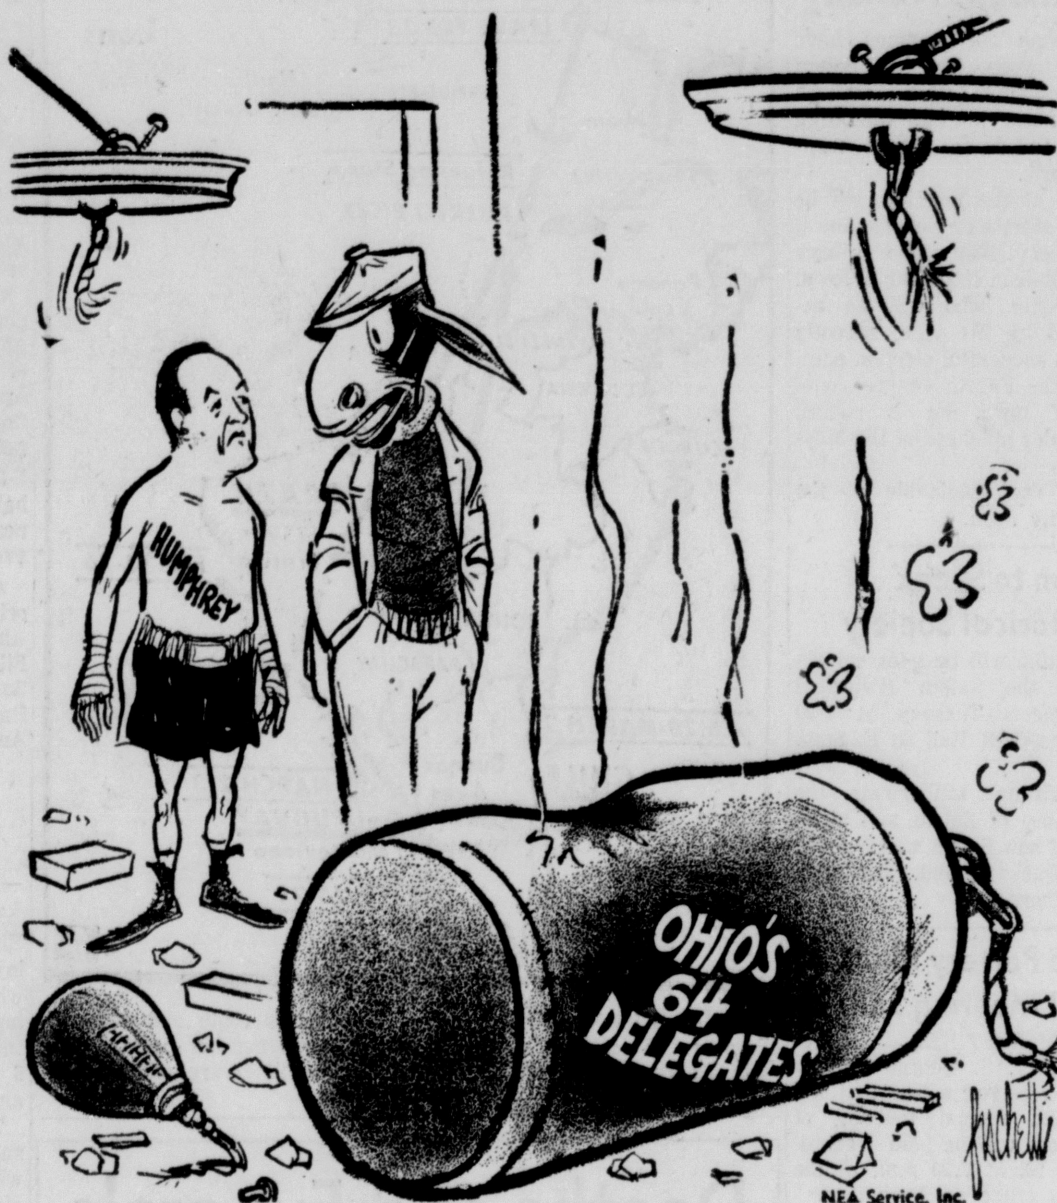

The subway workers have no easy job. Few people begrudge them a better break, but couldn't the situation be worked out without giving eight million subway riders the creeps unnecessarily?

Just about the best acting on Broadway is that of Albert Dekker and Herbert Berghoff in "The Andersonville Trial."

It saddens me to read that the New Haven Clock Co., in business 142 years, is folding. It was founded in 1817 away back in the day of James Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson. For generations it was the best-known clock and watch company in the country.

Otis Elevator is to split two for one (express or local?).

Important Election Factor

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The country, says Minnesota's Sen. Hubert Humphrey, is suffering from complacency and has been ever since 1953 when President Eisenhower took office.

Humphrey, who wants to move into the White House on the Democratic ticket, says the next president "is going to inherit a series of problems that have been swept under the rug—where they have been festering and intensifying."

If Humphrey is right—that the country has been complacent for almost seven years—who is responsible: The Eisenhower administration or the people?

The two Arthur Schlesingers, father and son and both professors of American history, have written that history moves in cycles: that a period of intense feeling and activity or crisis is always followed by one of calm while new forces and frustrations and demands build up. Under this pressure, the calm eventually yields to a period of new and progressive action.

After the fierce activity of World War I and President Wilson's struggle for the League of Nations, the country seemed deliberately to want peace and quiet. It elected Warren G. Harding and then Calvin Coolidge.

For most of the 1920s there was quiet, and increasing prosperity. This could be called a complacent period, too. It came to a shocking end with the crash of 1929 and the depression which called for action.

Franklin D. Roosevelt promised action. The nation turned to him and the rapid remedies of the New Deal. But there was to be no calm, Hitler created crises. The nation kept Roosevelt, in 1936 and again in 1940, as the war fear spread.

Then war. The nation still kept Roosevelt in 1944. When he died President Truman carried on through the war's end and into the turbulent late 1940s when there was no real quiet at home or abroad.

At home Democrats and Republicans fought like cats and dogs. Abroad the Soviets piled up crises. The people kept Truman in 1948. Then came McCarthyism and Korea, both of which began in 1950.

By the time Eisenhower ran for office in 1952 the country, torn down the middle by McCarthyism and anxious for an end to the killing in Korea, was saturated with conflict and crises which extended unbrokenly back to 1929.

It would be no wonder if the nation, without consciously realizing it, wanted then a period of calm in which it could live without tension.

It got that pretty much under Eisenhower except for the continuing tension with Red China and the Soviet Union and the segregation struggle in the South. The racial struggle was precipitated not by the public or the administration but by the Supreme Court.

The court, in turn, could be said to be reflecting the pressure of racial unrest and tension, building up since the Civil War, and through its decision sought to bring this turmoil to an end, too.

But suggesting that complacency—if that's the name for it—was handed down from above by Eisenhower is to overlook a very important factor which gives an insight into the mood of the nation.

The record of Congress since 1953—it has been run by Democrats since 1954—has not been a period of intensity, innovation, experimentation, or startling changes. It has been pretty much a rock-along period.

This might indicate Congress was complacent except for one thing: Congress reflects the mood of the people, who showed they liked the Calmness by re-electing Eisenhower in 1956.

If the Eisenhower administration alone had been complacent—but not the people—then the people would have been pressuring Congress for action in a dozen fields which have been glossed over, delayed, or pushed aside.

The most important factor in the 1960 elections next November after making allowance for the importance of the personalities and records of the candidates—will be the mood of the country.

If it feels the need for sharp action and an abandonment of its present mood, the party which promises to fill the new requirements will stand the best chance.

At this moment it's questionable that the nation wants to abandon its present mood of rock-along.

Anti-Semitic Wars

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Suspicion Points to Concerted Communist Plan

The finger of suspicion begins to point more and more toward Communist responsibility for the wave of anti-Semitism which now has broken out sporadically in countries as far apart as Canada and Australia and Sweden and South Africa.

Even in Israel — which is the last place one would expect to see any anti-Semitic demonstrations — swastika insignia were found in a synagogue and in a labor exchange building.

Much of this has been brushed off as "crackpot activity," just as those who daubed paint on West German synagogues were promptly labeled "holligans." But when anything occurs that is as widespread as has just been reported in the press dispatches from all parts of the world, it is apparent this is no accidental occurrence but, as the West German government itself now declares, a well-concerted plan.

Dr. Karl Ibach, chairman of resistance fighters against the Nazis, is quoted in a news dispatch of resistance fighters against the Nazis, is quoted in a news dispatch as having told Chancellor Adenauer that there is an underground anti-Semitic movement and that its two centers in Sweden and Vienna are in contact with former Nazi leaders who have fled to Egypt.

Recent reports indicate that some of the anti-Semitic demonstrations in the southern part of the United States might have had their origin in certain Arab countries.

IT IS SIGNIFICANT, moreover, that, although there must be a considerable number of anti-Semites in East Germany, no demonstrations occurred there for several days. Then, when that fact was noted in the press, the East Germans managed to join the procession with the painting of swastikas on walls in a small town near East Berlin.

Obviously the Communists are playing a double game. During the last 10 days, they suppressed in the Soviet press the news of the anti-Semitic demonstrations but unhesitatingly filled the air waves in the West with denunciations of West Germany as being dominated by former Nazis and Fascists.

Plainly the Communist strategy is to injure the prestige of the Adenauer government in the free world and to weaken the influence of the Chancellor in the forthcoming "summit" meetings on the Berlin problem.

The objective is to convince people in the West that it would be a mistake to reunify Germany. For, despite their boasts about relaxing tension, the Soviets have not given up their idea of forcing the Western powers out of Berlin altogether.

Just why should anti-Jewish "hate paintings" appear simulta-aneously, since Christmas Day, not only in West Germany but in Britain, Australia, Belgium, France, Finland, Greece, Sweden, Austria and Italy, as well as in remote parts of the world?

IT SEEMS INCREDIBLE that the former Nazis should suddenly find themselves possessed of enough money of their own and a big enough international apparatus to carry out such a scheme.

The answer probably is that there are some "right wing" groups which have secret ties with the Communists, though outwardly they profess hostility to each other.

The West German government has just declared through its press chief, Felix von Eckhardt, that, while there is no positive proof as yet that the incidents were organized and controlled by a single organization, "We hope to have the proof soon." He added that there were "definite conclusions that the incidents had been organized by some central group."

Chairman Francis E. Walter, Democrat, of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has just declared that he has information from "unassailable confidential intelligence sources" showing that Communists are behind the recent anti-Semitic outbreaks in West Germany.

He says the trouble is "Communist - inspired for the purpose of attempting to discredit the West German Adenauer government." The fact is that a hard core of several thousands of Communists are stationed not only in the United States but in all countries of the free world.

Millions of dollars annually pass into the hands of Communist agents from headquarters in Canada and Mexico as well as in Argentina.

In the United States itself the same technique has been used in the last few years in the South by painting synagogues and otherwise defacing churches.

THE MOST IMPORTANT objective of the Communists today is to discredit the Adenauer government in the eyes of the world.

The anti-Semitic demonstrations have already brought results by way of increasing criticism of the West German government for an alleged lack of vigilance in cracking down on former Nazis.

The truth is the West German government finds it difficult to take effective action against the Communists who travel back and forth across the frontier from East Germany every day carrying verbal instructions to Communist agents in the press, in the universities, in the churches and even in the local governments in West Germany.

Part of the strategy is to arouse many so-called "liberals" to pool-pool the Communist menace and this gives the Communist apparatus even more leeway than ever before in carrying on their diabolical plots.

Hot Time In Louisiana

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Not since the days of the incorrigible Huey Long, which ended with the "Hay-Ride" mired in corruption, has there been such a campaign as one which ends with a runoff primary for governor of Louisiana on Jan. 9.

The contestants are de Lesseps S. "Chep" Morrison, now serving his fourth term as mayor of New Orleans, and former Gov. James Davis, noted for his hillbilly music and central figure in two earlier campaigns for chief executive of the state.

A month ago, in the first primary Morrison led a field of five contenders with a plurality of 65,000 votes over Davis.

This will be the latest installment of an exciting saga involving a complicated story plot.

In 1956 Morrison lost to Earl Long but with the notorious activities of Brother Earl he decided to make another try.

Some New Orleans citizens, anxious to rid the state of the unsavory smog occasioned by Earl Long's antics, decided to get behind Davis.

MORRISON, they believed, could not beat the Long machine and the elements allied with it, especially in North Louisiana. Morrison is a Catholic and is regarded in the remote parishes as a city slicker.

Noting large amounts of cash moving into Long's hands, Treasury and Revenue agents had taken an active interest in the governor's financial affairs. Hints of bribery moved Long to declare that he would seek the governorship again, although he was by law ineligible to succeed himself.

The Legislature refused to change the law on succession, despite noisy attacks by Long upon friend and foe, the press, business, and people generally.

Long's conduct reached a plateau of repulsiveness in the firing of state officials, separation from his wife and a bizarre motorcade through several states.

Vindictive, crude, vulgar, Long lost most of his remaining friends and even killed the slim chances of his candidate, former Gov. James A. Noe. Long was running for lieutenant governor on Noe's ticket. A deal whereby Noe would resign in favor of Long was suspected.

Two more candidates entered the race, Comptroller Bill Dodd, who was formerly Long's legislative whip, and State Sen. Willie Rainach.

THE NOE-LONG drives slowed to a walk. Rainach brought out the segregation issue in a flamboyant form intending to damage Morrison, who has avoided racial trouble in New Orleans by rational approaches to the racial issue.

In the primary on Dec. 5 a heavy state vote was cast, showing a strong North vs. South Louisiana division.

After the survival of Morrison and Davis, Noe and Dodd supported Morrison in the runoff campaign.

It is alleged that Davis has brought in the race issue by saying that Morrison won with the support of "minority groups" or "a minority group." There is dispute about whether the singular or plural was used in the description.

Rainach, however, supporting Davis, "bedecked his New Orleans headquarters with huge signs: 'D vis-Aycock and U.S. White,' and 'Black?'" This, plus the whipping of the religious issue, like a self-inflicted wound is painful and is likely to leave grievous scars.

Morrison's associates are working day and night to pick up enough votes in a heavy South Louisiana and North urban turnout to overcome what Davis may gain in the segregation parishes of North Louisiana. There are reasonable grounds for their cautious optimism.

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Ohio Milk Prices Traced

Ohio monthly prices received by farmers for milk for fluid market in January, February and March 1959 averaged about 15 cents per cwt. below prices during the corresponding period in 1958, the Ohio Department of Agriculture reports.

For the next six months April through September, there was little spread between prices this year and last year. However, prices in October and November 1959 were 22 and 27 cents per cwt. respectively above a year earlier.

A large proportion of all milk for fluid market is received by plants under Federal Order for which the Ohio Department does not have complete information on bulk tank and other premiums paid to farmers. In some markets premium payments to farmers having bulk tanks have been 10 cents per cwt. for milk delivered to Ohio plants. For 1958, the annual average price received for milk for fluid market was $4.40 per cwt., compared with $4.62 in 1957 and $4.58 in 1956.

Monthly prices of milk of manufacturing grade in 1959 and 1958 show pretty much the same seasonal pattern with the change from the same month in 1958 ranging from -1 to 9 cents per cwt. For manufacturing grade milk, the 1958 annual average of $3.30 per cwt. compares with $3.38 in 1957 and $3.41 in 1956 the report adds.

For November 1959, prices received for milk of manufacturing grade averaged 2 cents per cwt. higher than in January 1959. In 1958, the November price was 1 cent higher than the January price.

For milk for fluid market, the change from January 1959 to November 1959 was an increase of about 40 cents per cwt. whereas 1958 the November price was 5 cents under the January price.

Commercial Vegetable Summary

The combined production of Ohio's 14 principal commercial vegetables, including strawberries for fresh market, totaled 3,478,000 cwt. according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service. This is 4 per cent less than the 1958 crop which totaled a record 3,605,000 cwt.

Higher prices offset the reduction in total production and the total value of these crops was slightly higher than in 1958. Total value of these commercial vegetables produced in Ohio in 1959 was $18,373,000 compared with the 1958 crops value of $18,323,000.

Crops showing production increases were snap beans, late spring cabbage, cantaloupes, carrots, early fall celery, sweet corn, lettuce, green peppers, and early summer tomatoes.

Crops showing decreases were asparagus, early summer and early fall cabbage, cauliflower, early summer celery, dry onions, spring and early fall spinach, late summer tomatoes and strawberries.

Hail during July and an early freeze occurring in September were responsible for much of the reduced production especially in the muck areas. Early ripening from extremely hot weather in North-western Ohio cut late summer tomato yields.

Boosting Lamb Gains

There are, say experts with sheep, three primary ways farmers may boost average daily gains of lambs.

They are: 1. feeding them antibiotics, 2. implanting them with stilbestrol, or 3. giving them a complete ration in pelleted form.

The success of these three practices has been borne out in tests undertaken at Ohio State University.

Talking to farmers attending the annual meeting of the Ohio Sheep Improvement Association, Jack Cline, university animal scientist, declared that lambs implanted with stilbestrol averaged .13 of a pound more gain a day than those not receiving this treatment.

Antibiotics resulted in .532 of a pound of gain per day more than before. Those not getting this stimulant to growth averaged .446. And, a pelleted ration increased gains .1 of a pound per head over the same ration fed in meal form.

Sheepman Cline also noted that automatically fed lambs gained faster than lots wherein feeding was accomplished by hand.

Hog Slaughter Up

Federally inspected hog slaughter in November was 15.4 per cent greater than for the corresponding month a year ago, the USDA has reported.

invitation of the bells

America is a land of bells!

Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells. . . . all speak of a country where Freedom from tyranny exists.

Radio chimes keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.

Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside the fetters of worry that shackle our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.

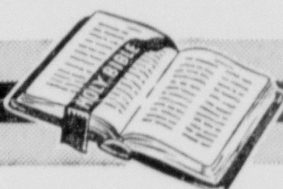

Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dr. Pelley, Retired Hanoverton Physician, Will Be 95 Sunday

A century isn't a long time when thought of as part of eternity. But when a man's life spans a century, that's something else.

The latter is the case of Dr. Henry J. Pelley of Hanoverton, who will be just five years short of the century mark next Wednesday.

Dr. Pelley's 95th birthday will be marked with little fanfare except for a family gathering Sunday.

HIS DAUGHTER, Mrs. Paulina Sloss, who makes her home with the doctor, says his physical condition isn't such that he can comfortably stand a more elaborate celebration.

The physical condition to which Mrs. Sloss refers stems from a broken hip the doctor suffered two years ago. Up until that time, Dr. Pelley was able to do much work around the yard. As a matter of fact, he was working in the yard when he fell, fracturing his hip.

Even more outstanding than his age, though, are his years of service in his profession and to his community. Just seven years ago when the doctor was 87, he put his medical bag away for the last time. On that day he had completed 60 years in the medical field.

HIS CAREER BEGAN in 1892, the year he was graduated from what is now the University of Pittsburgh. His first practice was established in Dunganon near Lisbon.

He practiced there for 26 years, moving to Hanoverton in 1918. From that time until 1953, when he retired, Dr. Pelley was the village's medical watchdog.

Dr. Pelley was born in Bethany, W. Va., Jan. 13, 1865. His family moved to Burgettstown, Pa., when he was 10. While in Burgettstown, he served as a school teacher and struck up an acquaintanceship with the village doctor.

HE BORROWED medical books from the doctor and along with his conversations with the man, his interest was bent toward the field of medicine. It was shortly after that Dr. Pelley entered medical school. After the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Pelley completed his post-graduate study at Poly Clinic in New York.

Dr. Pelley was married in 1896 to the late Sarah Gamble of Dunganon.

There are seven living children, including Mrs. Donald Kieth of Cleveland, Miss Mildred Pelley of Minerva, Mrs. Burdette Loudon of Minerva, Mrs. Paul Sankbiel of Canton, Mrs. Wayne Roach and Bruce Pelley, both of Hanoverton, and Mrs. Sloss at home.

He has nine living grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. So, the family gathering Sunday should be a considerable event.

Woman Blasts 300 Game In Bowling Event

OMAHA (AP)—For a change it was the women who supplied all the histrionics in the All-Star Bowling Championships Friday.

Sylvia Wene, the Philadelphia mite, who won this classic in 1955, blasted the first 300 game in the 18-year annals of the tournament in the distaff division.

Despite her dramatic accomplishment, Sylvia stood only 10th in the 96-woman field at the end of two days of qualifying.

Mena Degymas, a 37-year-old secretary from Chicago, roared to the top of the women's standings on the basis of a record eight-game total of 1,886, an average of nearly 211.

The old record for eight games of preliminary action was held by Miss Wene, who felled 1,626 pins along the same route in 1951.

Fred List, San Antonio, Tex., commanded the 240-member men's field on the basis of his two-day, 12-game total of 2,623.

The boy, a first grader at Ellsworth School, was visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bare Sr. Ray pulled the fish out of the ocean with only a little help from his grandfather. The boy's grandparents, who operate Bare's Farm Equipment Co. at Ellsworth, spend the winters in Florida.

Losers' Dave Gearin Tallies 29 Points

Beaver Local won its second cage game of the season Friday when it eked out a 64-62 victory over Salineville on the latter's floor.

The Beavers were behind 18-17 at the end of the first quarter, but forged ahead to hold a 34-31 bulge at the intermission.

At the three-quarter mark the eventual winners were in front 49-43 and successfully staved off an Indian rally in the final quarter.

Dick Barnhart was high scorer for the winners with 15 points. He was followed by Thurman Allen and Mike Pike, each of whom netted 11.

Salineville's Dave Gearin shredded the nets for 29 points to take high scoring honors for the night.

The Beavers have five losses on their record this season. Their next contest will be Tuesday when they invade Chester, W. Va.

The Indians have won four and lost four games. They will travel to Irondele Tuesday.

All Big Ten Teams Face Action Today

By The Associated Press

Indiana has its back against the wall and Ohio State is in the hot seat in the Big Ten basketball race which finds all teams in action today.

Indiana, pre-season favorite, already is shackled with two defeats and faces a strong and aggressive Ohio State team in Columbus. With Indiana faltering, Ohio State's now the favorite to win the conference title.

That in itself is a sign of danger in a race that apparently knows no favorites. The big battle between Indiana and Ohio State will be regionally televised this afternoon and could produce a great scoring duel between Hoosier Walk Bellamy, 6-11, and Buckeye sophomore Jerry Lucas, 6-6.

Should Ohio State win, Indiana virtually would be eliminated from the race, which is only one week old. OSU is 1-0 and Indiana 0-2.

Four other games today find Minnesota (1-0) at Illinois (0-1), Northwestern (1-0) at Iowa (1-1), Michigan (0-0) at Michigan State (1-0) and Wisconsin (0-2) at Purdue (1-0).

In every case today, the home team is favored to win.

Eight teams will be in action Monday night with Illinois at Purdue, Indiana at Michigan, Michigan State at Iowa and Northwestern at Wisconsin.

Foss Makes Appeal for Fledgling Pro Circuit

DALLAS (AP)—Joe Foss, commissioner of the American Football League, has made a direct appeal to the owners of National Football League clubs not to destroy his fledgling pro circuit.

Lamar Hunt, founder of the AFL and owner of the Dallas club in the new loop, Friday made public a letter which Foss sent Wednesday to the 12 NFL club owners and Austin H. Gonsel, acting commissioner of the NFL.

Foss in his letter charged that NFL leaders drove the AFL out of the Minneapolis-St. Paul area and that "the same wrecking crew has intensified its efforts against the new AFL team in Dallas."

The AFL commissioner said that if the NFL sincerely wants to expand, it can and should direct its efforts toward cities which the AFL does not propose to serve.

"We earnestly desire to be your good neighbor, working in parallel enterprise to promote professional football," Foss wrote.

E. Palestine 7th, 8th Graders Win

East Palestine's seventh and eighth grade cage squads took a pair of games from their Beaver Local counterparts Thursday on the Bulldogs' home floor.

The East Palestine seventh graders won 32-27 while the Bulldogs' eighth graders came out on top 33-13. The teams will play again Tuesday at Beaver Local.

Greenford Rallies To Trip Fairfield

Greenford rallied in the final period to take a 54-52 victory over a fighting Fairfield-Waterford crew in a cage contest Friday night on the latter's court.

The score was tied nine times tilt before the Bobcats managed to eke out the win.

Greenford held a one-point lead 12-11 at the end of the first period, but the host squad surged to take an identical bulge 25-24 by the intermission.

Palestine Rolls Over Louisville Comes from Behind To Score 46-39 Win

The East Palestine Bulldogs recorded a 46-39 victory Friday night over the invading Louisville Leopards.

For the Leopards, John Chaglain was the big man, with 14. Tom Kerstetter netted 11 for the losers.

In the first period, neither squad was able to gain an advantage, and the score was tied at its conclusion 9-9. By halftime, the Leopards had obtained a slim 23-22 lead.

The Leopards have a 4-2 season standing at present. They will invade the Sebring Trojans Tuesday.

The Palestine record also stands at 4-2. The Bulldogs play host to Minerva Tuesday.

In the preliminary tilt, the Louisville Reserves nipped Palestine 33-32.

Friday Night TV Fights to be Dropped

NEW YORK (AP)—Not too long ago there were five boxing shows a week on network television. By September there may be only one, the Wednesday night program.

The Friday night fights, the granddaddy of them all, will be dropped by NBC.

The Gillette Safety Razor Co., which has sponsored the Friday night fights over TV for 15 years, said "We were informally advised by NBC Thursday that they did not want to carry the Friday night fights on their network after next September. We have not had time to give adequate consideration to our future course of action."

NBC officials declined comment. The Friday night show is a five-million-dollar a year package.

The sponsor might shift to another network. Columbia Broadcasting System dropped boxing several years ago. American Broadcasting Co. carries the Wednesday night fights.

What prompted NBC's decision? The network wouldn't say. Some observers point to continuing investigations of boxing which has cast mud on the game, and secondly a desire by some NBC executives to make fuller use of the time.

Cincinnati's Royals Roll Over St. Louis

Cincinnati's Royals have edged past Minneapolis' Lakers in the only neck-and-neck battle at the moment in the National Basketball Assn.

The struggle is for the third playoff position in the Western Division. The Royals, although they trail the Lakers by one game, moved up from fourth to third by five percentage points on their 112-102 victory over St. Louis Friday night.

Cincinnati's record is 13-30, 302. Minneapolis' is 11-26, 297.

Jack Twyman fired the Royals' last-quarter rally. He sank 13 of his 43 points in the final frame.

In the only other game Friday night, Syracuse beat Detroit 118-107 at Rochester, N.Y. George Yardley popped in 30 points for the winners.

Wellsville Wins Over Toronto 59-46

The Wellsville Tigers jolted an invading Toronto cage squad Friday night 59-46.

Bob Kiggins led the victors with 23 points. Franklin Jackson came through with 14.

For the Toronto squad, Carl Kestner was the big gun with 15, followed by Don Karauas, who scored 13.

Toronto soared to a 15-9 lead in the first stanza, but the Tigers slashed this margin to 26-24 by the half.

Wellsville pulled ahead in the third quarter, 42-39 as the county boys began to show their stuff.

In the fourth period, the Toronto squad was stopped short by the tight Tiger defense, scoring only 7 points, while its opponents fired 17, clinching the win.

This defeat is Toronto's second of the season, giving it a 4-2 record.

Wellsville's respectable standing of 5-1 will be challenged Jan. 9 when the Tigers travel to Steubenville Central Catholic.

In the preliminary meet last night, the Wellsville Reserves smashed Toronto 62-33.

Fair Pay and Fair Prices

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

Go home and thank your wife. If it wasn't for the little lady's canny shopping, the price tag on many an item would be con-siderably steeper.

Perhaps she hasn't heard, but she has just received a whale of a tribute, Ralph J. Cordiner, chair-man of the board of general Electric, calls the American house-wife "the best purchasing agent in the world."

I'm wondering whether Cordiner wasn't telling us that prices may be reaching a level beyond which they cannot rise.

The question which provoked his remark related to the outlook for strike threats. In reply, Cordiner said:

"THE STEEL COMPANIES are tackling an issue far broader than steel. Look at the wage-price trend since 1950; cumulatively it has risen more than 5.5 per cent yearly. When you get an increase of more than 2 per cent in the economy, the amount that exceeds the 2 per cent must be paid for by the consumer. Technology can pick up but the first 2 per cent.

As you read today's headlines, ponder what Cordiner is saying. In industry after industry, man-agement and labor are being chal-lenged to settle an issue that began with history-the issue called innovation.

It should be clear to us by now that higher wages are meaning-less when they provoke higher prices. But, if we are to insist on more pay, then somehow there must evolve a system whereby those wage increases can be jus-tified, some means whereby the benefits of greater capita wealth can be reaped. To do this requires innovation.

Any radical change brings hard-ship. Any fear of obsolescence, whether of jobs, machinery and methods, or products, leads to panic.

FOR EXAMPLE: two issues in the steel industry are the fear on one hand that men's jobs may be lost by changes in work rules, and the fear on the other hand that markets for the end product might vanish because of pricing.

The issue behind a host of strike threats in a wide range of indus-tries is technological progress. This, too, is the explanation in part behind the shifts in defense spend-ing and is responsible for mount-ing joblessness.

If Cordiner's thinking reflects that of both government and in-dustry (I think that it does) it showed best when he was asked: "Will the loss anticipated in de-fense business be offset by in-creases in consumer and industrial lines?"

In reply, Cordiner with all sin-cerity made it clear that nothing can offset the loss of a job to the man without one.

Could it be that we are coming to the end of an era when the few can dictate to the man what constitutes fair pay and fair prices? I hope so.
